

Dress Code - At camp we encourage campers to view their bodies as temples of the Holy Spirit. For this reason we have a dress code to assist campers in focusing on the real reason that they are at camp: to make lasting uplifting friendships and to focus on their relationship with the Lord. Clothing that is revealing is distracting and demeaning. For this reason we have set standards.

Clothing should not have words or images that are offensive or contrary to the Christian principles of the camp.

Boys: Must wear shirts at all times except in water related activities, such as the swimming pool and waterslide. Underwear should be worn, not seen. Campers are strongly discouraged from wearing skin tight pants which are inappropriate for the active nature of camp life.

Girls: Shorts should be modest (no shorter than finger tips when hanging loosely at the sides of the body). Shirts should be suitable for recreation and not revealing. Please do not bring overly baggy or tight shirts, spaghetti strap tops, tank tops or midriff revealing shirts. Shirts should have a modest neck-line as well. Swimsuits should be modest one piece or midriff covering tankini style.

If a camper's clothing doesn't meet dress code, parents will be contacted to bring additional clothing. Please encourage your camper to pack modest clothing.
