Why work at camp?

Working at a Christian summer camp provides some of the best opportunities for ministry that are open to college and high school students. The camp setting provides a unique opportunity for children to grow socially and spiritually. There are so many benefits that come from spending a summer at camp. Counselors have the opportunity to share their faith and enthusiasm for the Lord with campers. While at camp, staff members are able to learn more about spiritual gifts and how God has specifically equipped them to serve. Throughout the summer, campers and staff live in an intentional community that becomes like a second family.

Additional Benefits:

- Meals and lodging are provided for staff during the camp week. Lodging is available for Senior Staff wishing to stay on grounds over the weekend.
- Expenses are reduced while working at camp. What is great about this arrangement is that you don't have to travel to and from work everyday; saving you gas money. You also don't have to worry about meals for the week. Therefore, what you make, while it may not be a million bucks, will go directly into your pocket.
- You can work all or part of the summer. We ask that staff come to Orientation and then work at least three camp sessions. Working at camp can fit around family vacations, mission trips, and other events.
- Counselors can apply for additional funds through the Counselor Scholarship Program. The Counselor Scholarship Program was created to help college students who are struggling financially to pay for college and be able to work at camp.

Students can apply for additional money through the Scholarship program to help supplement their camp salary.

- Eternal Rewards. The reality that you were able to help someone grow in their faith. You might even have the opportunity to lead a camper to Christ. Eternal rewards!!
- Camp is a blast!!

It's More than a Job

Working at camp is more than just a summer job where at the end of the week you get a pay check. People who work at camp are missionaries in their own right. Campers are watching staff members to see how they are living out their Christian faith. Through the relationships that are formed with the campers, seekers are able to ask more about Christ and how to live a life that brings glory to the Father. Community living plays a key role in the ministry that happens at camp. Campers are able to grow socially as they learn to relate to one another in appropriate ways within the community living environment. We are a group of believers living in intentional community together; as such, we experience the joys and struggles of living together. Throughout the summer the bonds that are formed become more than just friendships; they become like family. Camp is a place that children and staff are embraced by the love and acceptance of Christ.
