The Problem

Youth are leaving the church

According to a study that was done a few years ago, 70-75% of Christian youth leave the church after high school. Some of the reasons include:

- “I moved to college and stopped attending”
- “I became too busy...”
- “I chose to spend more time with friends”
- “I was only going to church to please others”

There are many reasons young people leave. But for whatever reason, they simply conclude that church is not a priority.

The Solution

Working at Camp

Young people who work here are...

Encouraged in Their Faith

Our high school and college-aged camp staff experience authentic community, encouraging Bible studies, and focused worship. They are affirmed as ambassadors of Jesus who can make a difference in the world.

Challenged to Grow

Camp staff are challenged to step out of their comfort zones, try new things, and find out the next step on their own journey of faith.

Prepared to Serve

When we train our staff to run our Christ-centered camp program, they catch a vision for their own future of ministry and service.

Equipped to Lead

We equip our camp staff to lead activities, small group devotions, Bible studies and worship. Most importantly, we equip them to lead campers to faith by sharing the gospel.

They are becoming...
Tomorrow's Leaders.

The Challenge

Young people need to earn money in the summer so they can afford college and other endeavors.

We pay our summer camp staff an average of about $240 per week.
